- (2) We calculate the standard annual reserve for retirement benefits for each position, within a range of 10 to 25% of base compensation. Then we determine annual reserves for retirement benefits for individual Directors/Executive Officers with a range of 50 to 200% of the standard annual reserves by comprehensively evaluating the level of achievement of their targets and the level of their contribution to the business performance of the Company, using consolidated net sales and EBITDA of the Company as the evaluation indicators.

4) Method of Determining Compensation

- (2) The Board of Directors approves the compensation for Directors and Executive Officers based on such recommendation by the Nomination & Compensation Committee.

Based on the above recommendation by the Nomination & Compensation Committee, distribution of the directors' remunerations is determined in the meeting of the board of directors within the limitations of the maximum amount of directors' remunerations adopted in the annual general meeting of shareholders held on June 26, 2007 {300 million yen or less (including 30 million yen or less for outside directors)}.

(3) Distribution of the corporate auditors' remuneration is determined through consultation among the corporate auditors within the limitations of the maximum amount of corporate auditors' remuneration adopted in the annual general meeting of shareholders held on June 26, 2007 (80 million yen or less).

1) The Board of Directors, which comprises seven (7) members (including three external directors), all of whom are male, makes decisions on the material matters of the Company, as well as oversees the directors' execution of duties. The Board, which is designed to make management decisions quickly and accurately, basically meets once a month but may convene extraordinary meetings, as necessary, when material matters that require decisions occur. The Company's Board of Directors is the highest decision-making body of the Company and all material decision-making relating to the Group is performed through the Board of Directors of the Company.

Nominating and Compensation Committee, which is organized as a subordinate body of Board of Directors and its majority is outside directors, recommends nominees of Directors, Corporate auditors, and senior executive officers and also recommends compensation for directors and executive officers. The Board of Directors resolves nominee and compensation based on the recommendation.

Additionally, the Representative Director reports on the specific status of business execution on a quarterly basis. The Company has also adopted the executive officer system (fifteen (15) executive officers, including four executive officers who serve concurrently as directors), in order to enable speedy decision-making and flexible business execution through the separation of the decision-making and oversight functions. Under the system, executive officers are selected regardless of nationality or sex to allow diversity, and the current members are nine (9) Japanese and six (6) foreigners, all of whom are male. The Board of Directors elects the President and the other executive officers, and oversees the business execution of the executive officers. The Board of Executive Officers, comprising the President and the other executive officers, is convened on a monthly basis prior to the Board of Directors' meeting in order to deliberate material matters in detail as well as to coordinate the business divisions and reach a consensus on business execution. The executive officers engage in business execution, in accordance with the "Segregation of Duties/Authority Rules" and the "Decision-making Authority Rules." There is no human or capital relationship between the Company and outside directors.

2) Additionally, the Company has adopted a Board of Corporate Auditors' system and the Company's Board of Corporate Auditors comprises three (3) corporate auditors, including one (1) standing corporate auditor and two (2) external corporate auditors. Each corporate auditor performs audits in accordance with the corporate auditor's audit plan, which has been determined at the Board of Corporate Auditors' meetings, while participating in important meetings, including the Board of Directors' and Board of Executive Officers' meetings, in addition to performing strict oversight and audits over the business execution of the directors. By incorporating external perspectives to a greater extent than before, the Company has been able to perform an even more impartial audit of the directors' business execution. Corporate Auditors extensively verify the adequacy and efficiency of the directors' business execution by attending important meetings such as the Board of Directors' and Board of Executive Officers' meetings and expressing their opinions, gathering information through coordination with the Internal Audit Office and accounting auditors, in addition to directly interviewing the directors and inspecting material documents. Additionally, in order to ensure effective and high-level audits, corporate auditors convene regular Board of Corporate Auditors' meetings and verify the corporate auditor's audit plans, which have been formulated, the implementation status of audits and audit results. Furthermore, corporate auditors receive reports on internal audit results conducted by designated employees on the environment and quality according to ISO standards from the respective committees.

There is no human or capital relationship between the Company and outside corporate auditors.

3) Mechanism of Internal Control and Performance of Internal Audit and Audit by Corporate Auditors

For the purpose of monitoring the effectiveness and efficiency of the internal control and improving the operation and efficiency of the management of the Company and affiliated companies, three members of the Internal Control Office under the direct control of the President perform internal audit, including the internal audit of the state of internal control related to financial reports, of the actual state of execution of various execution activities related to the management of the Company and affiliated companies in terms of their conformity with various standards and execution management in general.

Furthermore, the division of the Company responsible for the promotion of compliance has established the code of conduct to be followed by the employees of the KITO Group and disseminated it for full understanding across the Company and makes efforts to prevent and control risk.

The results of the internal audits by the Internal Audit Office are shared with the accounting auditors and corporate auditors. The corporate auditors and the accounting auditor exchange opinions with each other, collect information from the other, attend audits when deemed necessary and ensure cooperation with each other by other means too. The Internal Control Office and corporate auditors are provided with the results of audits by the accounting auditor on a quarterly basis.

Results of the internal audits and audits by the corporate auditors are provided also to the general administration and legal divisions responsible for the internal control and are utilized to review the internal control rules of the Company and for other purposes.

3. Reasons for adopting current framework

The system of the corporate governance in the Company has corporate auditors. The Company has supervision of the duties execution by the board of directors and a monitoring function and an inspection function by the board of corporate auditors. The company strengthens those functions by appointment of external directors and collaboration with the board of corporate auditors, etc.

The Company has adopted the current framework, as the Company believes that the appropriateness of business has been ensured through the oversight exercised by the external directors over business execution from the perspective of a top management of manufacturing industry and a strategy / management consultant well-versed in various industries including the manufacturing industry, in addition to the audits performed by external corporate auditors with specialized accounting and legal knowledge and by the standing corporate auditor of the Company in collaboration with the internal audit division, including the audit offices.
