Expansion of Human Resource Solution Service Business in Thailand:

Contributing to the Stability of Production Quality with Flexible Personnel Input and a High Retention Rate

nms (Thailand) Co., Ltd. (nms Thailand), the Thailand base of the nms Group's Nippon Manufacturing Service Corporation, is providing human resource solution services to Japanese manufacturers developing business in the region. The extent of this is broad and the firm is working on expanding its customer base in various industries, such as automobile part/precision equipment manufacturers and logistics companies, in addition to automobile manufacturers.

Provision of Specialized Human Resource Solution Services

nms Thailand was established in September 2014 as a local subsidiary in the Kingdom of Thailand of Nippon Manufacturing Service Corporation (President and CEO: Hidehisa Fukumoto / 100% owned by the Company) which provides human resource solution services (e.g. worker dispatch and contract manufacturing) in Japan, China and ASEAN countries.

Many Japanese companies, centered on the manufacturing industry, have been expanding into the Kingdom of Thailand. However, while the unemployment rate is around 1%, companies have found it a challenge to stably secure highly skilled professionals and improve their retention rate to achieve Japanese manufacturing quality. Therein, nms Thailand has undertaken the following initiatives to meet the needs of its customers. This has led to the extent of its customer base expanding.

(1) Achieve speedy personnel input and a high retention rate that meets the needs of customers

- The firm is able to input personnel in three days from when a customer's order is received once the necessary dispatch procedures have been completed.
*Various procedures: Undergo physical examinations and acquire proof of no criminal record
- The firm provides basic education that forms the basis of stable manufacturing (e.g. manners education, the 5S and worker safety). This reduces the human resource education burden on companies where workers are dispatched.
- The firm is providing labor management services while achieving and maintaining an attendance rate of over 98% and a retention rate of over 95% (Examples of results from January to June 2017).

(2) Actively utilize Cambodian personnel to secure human resource stability

nms Thailand has strengthened its business partnership with UNG RITHY CO., LTD. (URG), an organization that delivers personnel in Cambodia, to contribute to the development in the provision of Cambodian personnel and ensure human resource stability in the Thai market where there is a decreasing birthrate and aging population. Currently, more than 20% of those registered with nms Thailand are Cambodian. It is expected that there will be a significant expansion in the number of personnel in the future due to growing needs.

Moreover, the firm is looking to utilize Laotian personnel toward more stably ensuring and supplying human resources. Including the development of business locally, the firm is planning to actively press ahead in the future.

The nms Group will continue to flexibly provide manufacturing solution services in keeping with the needs of our customers to contribute to the steady improvement in their production quality in the future.
