III. Interview with CEO

Q. How were the Company's results in the first half?

A. We have been making progress with our current medium-term management plan "Tanabe Vision 2020." The central component of this plan is our "Consulting and Conglomerate (C&C) Strategy" (see figure below), which is, in other words, a multifaceted consulting strategy. To promote this strategy, we have expanded our consulting menu for the three elements of Domain (business strategy), Function (organization strategy) and Region (regional strategy) to include 20 themes for which we hold workshops.

In our management consulting business, in addition to expanding our customer base mainly by increasing the number of themes for which workshops are held and strengthening mobilization activities for our various seminars, we increased the number of management cooperation contracts based on team consulting. Our human resources development consulting for alliance partners such as regional financial institutions, accountant's offices and other such entities nationwide rose year on year. In the Sales Promotion (SP) Consulting Business, we forged ahead more strongly with SP strategic consulting (drafting and promotion of promotion strategy) and SP design tools (planning and development of original products).

Concerning SP design tools, our original products have been received warmly, and sales are exceeding those of the previous year. With regard to SP strategic consulting, although sales declined year on year, we managed to improve our profit margin as a result of focusing efforts on boosting added value.

As a result of the above initiatives, we managed to exceed our initial estimates and realize year-on-year increases in both revenue and profit. Net sales was ¥3,692 million and ordinary income was ¥431 million.

Q. What is the Company's future vision?

A. By promoting this "C&C Strategy," we aim to realize prosperity for client companies while overcoming the Company's own challenges of "change and growth." Looking forward to the post-2020 period, the period following the Tokyo Olympics and Paralympics, we do not envisage operating within conventional industry types or business formats. Instead, we aim to strengthen our provision of business model strategies based on the concept of "solving the challenges faced by future society." Also, in response to such customer challenges, which are becoming more sophisticated and specialized, we have established the Tanabe Consultant Academy, a business school for training the Company's employees to be consultants, and this has enabled us to quickly train professional consultants and strengthen our competitive edge. As part of our strategies for local regions, in May, we relocated our Kyushu Head Office to alongside JR Hakata Station to provide better access to each region in Kyushu. In July, we relocated our Chubu Head Office to the Dai Nagoya Building near JR Nagoya Station and integrated it with the SP Nagoya Sales Office. Through initiatives such as these, we aim to be the "First Call Consulting Firm," the company that companies in all regions throughout Japan choose to call first.

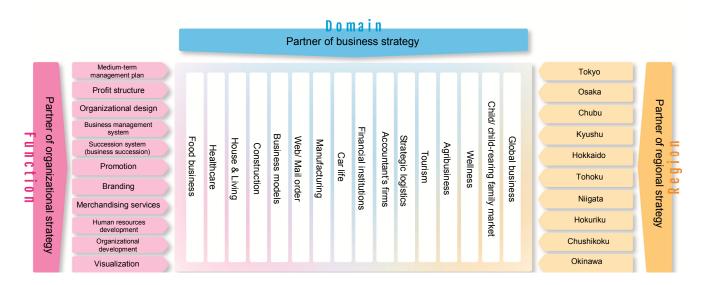

Q. What is your message to shareholders?

A. Through our "team consulting on a company-wide basis" efforts, we will assist in the creation of "first call companies that will be the first choice even 100 years in the future." By realizing sustained growth for our clients, we will contribute to the development of society and the local region. Through these efforts, we aim to realize sustained growth and realize medium- to long-term improvement in corporate value. I therefore encourage shareholders to provide even greater support in the future.
